4th "Boxcar" Crash Within 11 Days Kills 8

Huge Transport Falls, Burns In Montana Field

Toll Raises Total Of Servicemen Killed In Air Crashes To 91

BILLINGS, Mont. (P) — The fourth crash in 11 days of an Air Force C119 Flying Boxcar claimed eight lives, Monday when one of the huge transports crashed and burned in a muddy field 12 miles east of this South-Central Montana city.

The eight deaths raised to 91 the number of servicemen killed in Boxcar crashups since Nov. 7.

Four of the dead in the Montana crash burned to death when the two-engine craft plowed into the ground while attempting to make an emergency landing. Four died of injuries.

Eight others, including the pilot and co-pilot, were rushed to two Billings hospitals. Attendees said two were in critical condition.

The Air Force withheld identification of the dead.

Bound from Edmonton, Alta., Canada, to Denver, the plane crashed in cloudy weather but visibility was good.

Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators said propeller trouble apparently caused one motor of the transport to shake loose.

The Air Force in Washington said it has no intention of grounding the C119s "unless a pattern of mechanical failure is established by accident investigations."

A reserve officer said reports the transports are "not suitable" for arctic operations have been on file with the Air Force since last April.

Maj. William H. Jay, former Carrier Squadron, said he and another squadron commander filed the reports. Now a commercial airline pilot, Jay said the reports recommended the Boxcars be replaced by C54s and C124s.

Another report, Jay said, was submitted by Maj. Ned M. Letts,

Labeling Plan For Yule Mail Suggested Here

A plan which will speed up the handling of mail here during the Yule season is suggested by Postmaster Lawrence D. Beardmore. He asks the cooperation of patrons in working it out.

The plan is to have local carriers leave red and white delivery labels in mail boxes the first week in December. One label reads "Cards in this bundle are all for local delivery" while the second label bears the words, "Cards in this bundle are all for out-of-town delivery." Patrons are asked to arrange their Christmas cards so that the addresses all face one way and to separate those for local delivery from those for out-of-town delivery.

They are to be bundled and tied with twine both ways. A label on the top of each one will indicate whether or not local delivery is involved. The postmaster suggests that out-of-town cards be mailed by Dec. 10 or before and that cards for this city be mailed by Dec. 15 or before. This will aid postoffice employees and help to get your Christmas mail to its destination on time. It is also suggested that patrons purchase their stamps now. This will avoid standing in line for stamps later.

This label plan was used successfully in some of the larger cities last year, according to Postmaster Beardmore.

The postmaster appeals to patrons to be sure their mail is properly addressed, including their return address, before depositing it at the postoffice. It is always important to have street numbers on your mail, and especially at the Christmas season because substitute carriers are not too familiar with the routes.

UN Delegates Cool To Indian Korea Proposal

Assembly Handed
Plan To Settle
POW Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P) — United Nations delegates gave a cool but studious reception today to the long-awaited Indian compromise proposal for settling the Korean prisoner of war deadlock.

Although objections were raised on several points of the draft resolution India handed the U. N. General Assembly yesterday, neither Communist nor non-Communist representatives rejected the proposal outright. Neither side, however, was enthusiastic about it.

The world diplomats marked time in the main Korean debate in the Assembly's Political Committee so they could study the resolution further. Sessions originally scheduled for today were postponed for lack of speakers.

Decisions still were being made behind the scenes, and it was expected other compromise proposals would be introduced after the Korean debate is resumed tomorrow.

The delegates also awaited the outcome of the major policy talks in Washington today between President Truman and President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Acheson In Washington

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson went to Washington for the conference and hoped to get from the incoming administration head some assurance that vital U. S. policies toward problems confronting the U. N. will not be drastically changed.

The Indian resolution calls for a four-nation commission to take charge of repatriating prisoners of war as soon as an armistice is reached in Korea.

The Indians suggested two Communist and two non-Communist nations — Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland. But they added if this wasn't acceptable, four other states not participating in the Korean hostilities—excluding permanent members of the Security Council—could serve. The commission would choose a neutral umpire to vote in case of a 2-2 deadlock on decisions.

Resolution Against Force

The resolution, introduced by India's V. K. Krishna Menon after days of backstage talks with Americans, Russians and various parties in between, declares force will not be used either to prevent or effect the repatriation of prisoners.

The U. S. stands firmly against forcible return of prisoners who oppose going back to their Communist-ruled homelands. The Communists have demanded that all prisoners be handed over whether they want to return or not.

The Indian resolution carefully avoided any mention of screening the prisoners—a point to which the Russians have violently objected. It calls for both sides to hand over all prisoners to the commission in a demilitarized zone, where they will be free to return home or to stay under the commission's control.

Ike, Truman To Meet In Washington Today

Du Pont Trial Opens; Charged Monopolistic

Government Ready
With 1,203 Exhibits;
4 Month Trial Seen

CHICAGO (P)—The six-billion-dollar Du Pont industrial empire goes on trial in Federal Court today on government charges that the huge firm is monopolistic.

The government plans to introduce 1,203 exhibits and more than 25 depositions during the trial, which is expected to last at least four months. Judge Walter J. Labay will hear the case without a jury.

Special Asst. Atty. Gen. Willis L. Hotchkiss, head of the Chicago Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice, will present the government's opening statement today.

Attorneys for the defendants will then present their statements, which are expected to last through Wednesday. More than 25 attorneys are to represent the defendants.

The suit was first brought in 1949 charging that E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., General Motors Corp. and the U. S. Rubber Company violated the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The government contended the firms violated the act by restraining trade through secret rebates and by dividing several fields of manufacturing amongst themselves to eliminate competition.

The charges have been denied. Three Du Pont holding companies and 117 individual members of the Du Pont family, including 59 minors, are also defendants.

The holding companies, which the government contends the Du Pont family tightly controls, are Christiana Securities Company, Delaware Realty and Investment Corp. and Wilmington Trust Company.

The government charges that the holding concerns control the Du Pont company, which in turn controls General Motors and has a major block of stock in U. S. Rubber.

Hotchkiss said the government will seek a court order directing the Du Pont company to sell its General Motors stock. He said he does not plan to ask the defendants to dispose of their U. S. Rubber stock, which he said they own individually.

Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, who was attorney general when the suit was filed in 1949, said then that it was "directed to the breaking up of the largest single concentration of economic power in the United States."

Taft Calls On Eisenhower To Fix Time-Table For New Congress

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called on President-elect Eisenhower today to fix the time-table for legislative action in the new Congress.

At the same time, Taft told a news conference he doesn't believe it will be necessary for Eisenhower to intervene in the choice by Senate Republicans for their new leaders.

Taft predicted the Republicans will fill major posts "without any battle." He declined to say whether he wants to be chairman of the GOP Policy Committee or floor leader in the new organization.

But the Ohio senator said he believes Eisenhower should summon to the White House for weekly conferences the three top leaders in the Senate: the policy chairman, the floor leader and the head of the conference of all Republican senators.

Taft, who will see Eisenhower in New York Wednesday along with Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), prospective speaker of the new House, said the general will be asked to decide which legislative measures he wants action on first.

Taft listed the following as the most pressing:

1. The budget, including possible reorganization of the Budget Bureau and establishment of a congressional budget commission.

2. Taxation—Taft said the decision on this could await budget action.

3. The question of whether the government reorganization act, which expires in April, should be renewed.

4. Possible extension of price, wage and rent controls, as well as allocations powers, which expire in the period between April 30 and June 30. Taft said there had been some suggestions that these powers be ended immediately, adding he had heard President Truman might take such action before he goes out of office Jan. 20.

5. Action on proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley act.

6. Possible creation of a commission to study the federal government's place in handling social welfare, health, housing and social security problems.

7. Possible extension of a reciprocal trade agreements program.

8. New authorizations and appropriations for the foreign aid program.

The count, subject to recheck when the Kentucky Election Commission meets Monday to canvass returns, gave:

Eisenhower 495,689.

The preliminary tabulation also confirmed Republican John Sherman Cooper's victory for a two-year term in the U. S. Senate.

Lisbon Banks Ready $87,250 Yule Checks

LISBON—Officials of the Firestone Bank and the Farmers National Bank here announced a total of $87,250 will be mailed out soon to 1,189 persons in Christmas Savings checks.

The total for this year is an increase of over $8,000 of the $79,105 mailed last year.

The Farmers Bank will mail checks totaling $41,650 next Monday to 674 members of its Christmas Savings Club while the Firestone Bank will mail checks to 515 club members for a total of $45,000 on Dec. 1.

4 New Bases To Be Built In Greenland

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (P) — The Danish government guardedly announced today Western defense facilities in strategic Greenland are being expanded.

The announcement gave no details of what the expansion would mean, but reliable government and engineering sources said Denmark and the U. S. had agreed on construction of at least four huge new U. S. air bases on the big island across the North Pole from Soviet Russia's Arctic doorstep.

This report brought statements from a U. S. State Department spokesman, Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft and Finn Nielsen, acting chief of Denmark's Greenland department, that they knew nothing about any such agreement.

President-Elect To Keep Out Of Decisions Now

Truman Hopes For Unity Statement;
Pair Seen Still Cool

WASHINGTON (P)—Two men sit down in the White House today to discuss how one shall yield the world's most powerful office to the other with the least friction.

Dwight D. Eisenhower — expected to be greeted by a cheering million on his first visit as President-elect to this festooned capital—seemingly is determined not to take any pre-inaugural hand in vital government decisions.

Harry S. Truman, who proposed the unusual conference, was reported hoping, nevertheless, that his Republican successor would join in a statement of unity and of support for the American position in the United Nations on the explosive Korean issue.

But a spokesman for Eisenhower told reporters that unless the general changes his attitude there may be no statement at all—or at best a brief one.

He added that Eisenhower welcomes the opportunity for a briefing by Truman but wants no strings tied to him. There were signs that the coolness which developed between the two men as a result of their exchange of bitter charges in the presidential campaign had not thawed materially.

This spokesman said the President-elect feels that, unless there is some unexpected development of world-shaking proportions, he should refrain from even suggesting to the Truman administration any course of action on domestic and foreign affairs.

The President — elect will be ready to act quickly, this source said, when he takes office Jan. 20. In this connection, Republicans looked toward New York conferences tomorrow between the general and GOP congressional leaders as likely to be decisive in charting his opening course.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio told reporters yesterday Eisenhower will be asked to "point the way" on a half-dozen pressing legislative issues when he talks with Taft and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, expected to become speaker of the new House.

Eisenhower also will see Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, scheduled to head the powerful appropriations committee, and Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, prospective new chairman of the foreign relations committee.

Wiley has urged Eisenhower to back publicly the American insistence in the U. N. that North Korean war prisoners should not be returned to their country against their will. But there is no

Youths Sentenced In Kidnap Spree

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (P) — A kidnap-robbery spree led by a man who described himself as a knight in golden armor brought federal sentences yesterday to a former prizefighter and a 15-year-old companion.

The teenager, Virgil Lemay, was sentenced to five years on a kidnapping charge and a year and a day for car theft.

The onetime boxer, Charles Hopkins, 20, Jacksonville, Fla., was given sentences totaling 17 years—15 for kidnapping and two for interstate transportation of a stolen motor car. The sentences were ordered to run consecutively.

James Francis Hill, an ex-convict who led the crime spree last month in Tennessee and Georgia, was found mentally incompetent and ordered committed to an institution.

Hill placed a nine-page "life-story" in court records in which he said he was Robin Hood and stole from the rich to give to the poor.

A psychiatrist told the court Hill had a "warped mind" beyond cure.

Attempts To Get Meat Price Cut

Woods Orders OPS To Check Legality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Price Chief Tighe Woods plans to reduce the price of meat to consumers if it's legally possible.

Woods yesterday ordered his Office of Price Stabilization staff to have ready by Monday an order rolling back retail meat prices—or let him know why it can't be done.

He said a pulse-feeling swing he made through the country convinced him consumers are more concerned about food prices than any others, and that meat is first on that list.

Woods said cattlemen and farmers complain that the prices they receive for live cattle have gone down but that consumers are paying as much for beef now as they were when ceilings were set more than a year ago.

The price chief said if this is so he wants to know the reason why, and where the difference in price exists.

The Western States Meat Packers Association, a trade group, took sharp issue with what they said was a suggestion that meat retailers and packers are getting excessive profits.

E. F. Forbes, the group's president, yesterday made public a letter he sent congressmen recently. The letter said Woods made "irresponsible and inaccurate" statements in Minneapolis earlier this week "designed to turn consumers against meat packers and retailers."

Forbes said actually beef at wholesale is selling below ceiling prices—in some instances as much as 35 per cent below.

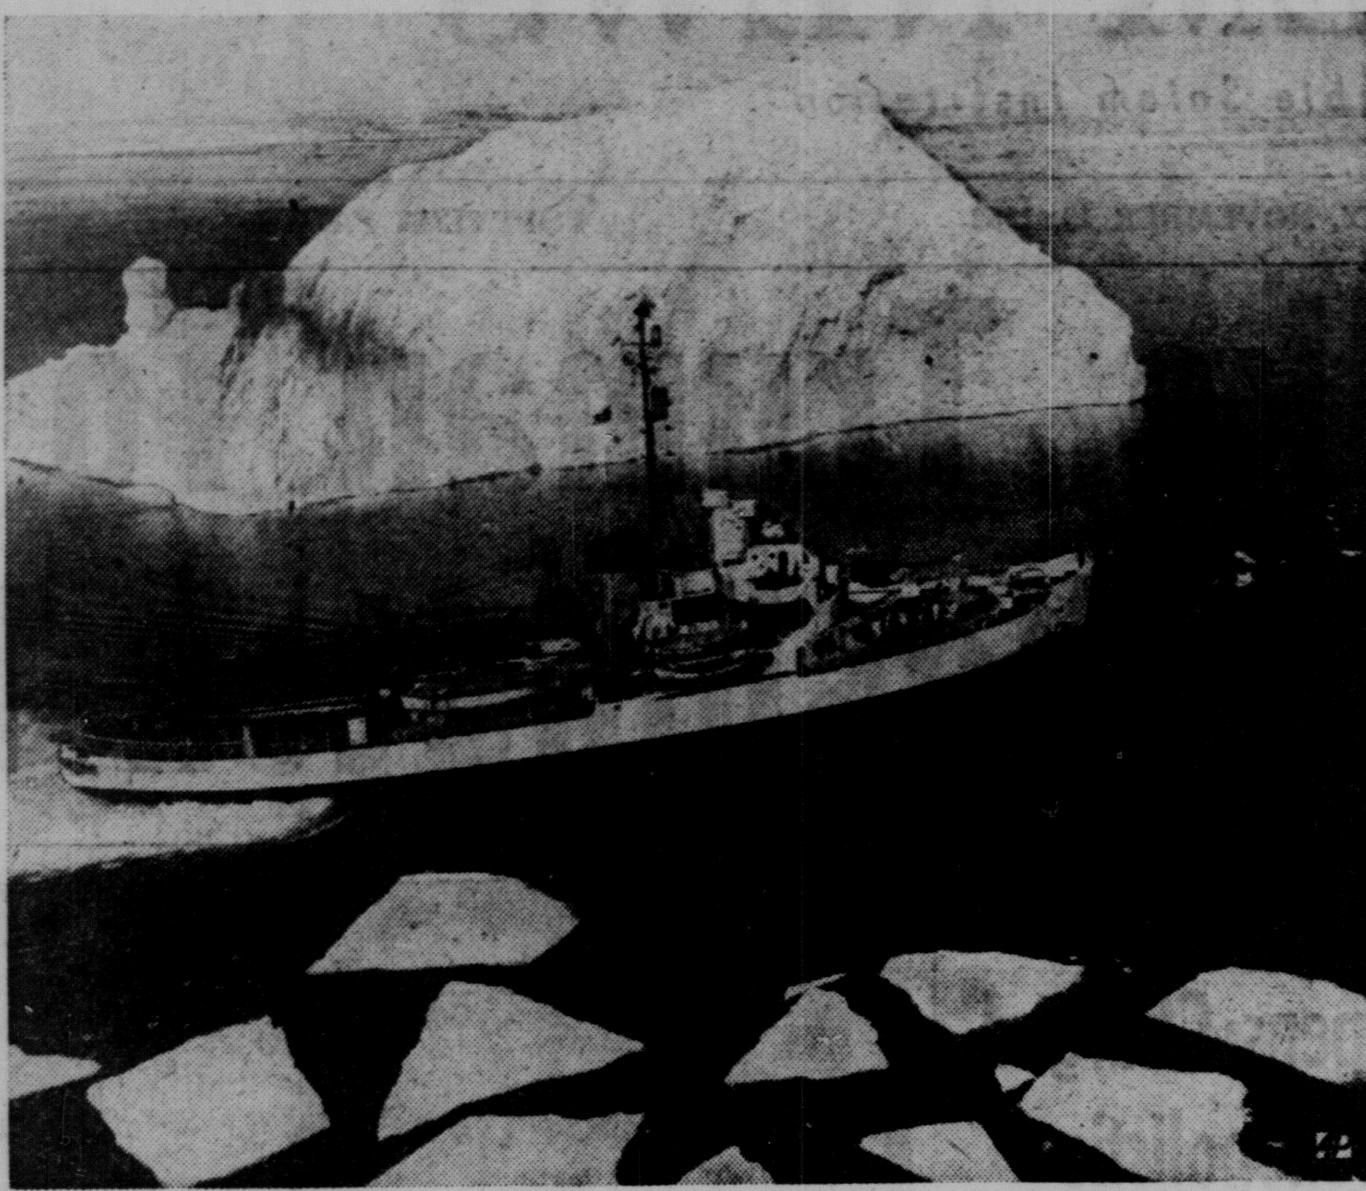

At Chicago, Public Relation Director Norman Draper of the American Meat Institute, which represents 500 meat-packing companies throughout the country, commented:

"Everybody is getting rather tired of distortion of truth by Tighe Woods. We wonder what office he may be running for. Perhaps he has forgotten there was an election Nov. 4."

Woods has held meetings with consumers in every section of the country since he took office Sept. 1. He said complaints about high prices were general, but criticism of food costs were most common.

Among possibilities of effecting a rollback being studied is the advisability of switching from the present dollars and cents per pound to a margin-type regulation.

If this were done, butchers would recalculate their ceilings at regu-

Irvin L. Rice, assistant chief of the OPS Food and Restaurant Division, reported that veal and top grades of beef generally are selling at about 5 per cent below ceilings at wholesale. He said other grades are selling substantially lower at wholesale.

Navy Recruit To Help His Orphaned Family

Before his arrival, a sister, Beverly, 16, was the nominal head of the family, which includes five boys and three girls.

Robert, the eldest son, said he planned to make the Navy a career "to be sure of being able to help out financially."

ROKs Hurl Reds Off Vital Knob

Point Was Lost Only Few Hours Earlier

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean infantrymen in savage hand to hand fighting today blasted Chinese Communists off a vital knob on blood soaked Sniper Ridge, lost to 175 screaming Reds a few hours earlier.

Even as the battered Chinese reeled back from Rocky Point, a new Red buildup was spotted at the northern end of Sniper. Allied war planes, tanks and artillery hammered the Communists with high explosives and searing napalm.

Ten U. S. B29 Superforts last night pushed the Korean air war right to the doorstep of Manchuria. The B29s smashed Choak, a Red mining and processing center within sight of the Yalu River and set off a chain of huge fires and explosions. Other Superforts blasted a Communist ammunition dump near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

The bitter fighting for the Kumhwa ridges on Korea's Central Front roared into its 36th straight day when 80 Chinese attacked Rocky Point at dawn. The Point is an important knob on Finger Ridge, which juts out from the main line of Sniper.

The first Red assault was hurled back in close quarter fighting.

At 10 a.m. 175 fanatic Chinese lashed out at the Point again. This time they smashed through the Republican defenders.

But, before they could consolidate their gains, the ROKs came charging back. By early afternoon the South Koreans had regained every inch of lost ground.

Farther north, Communist groups up to a company (150-175 men) in strength were seen gathering in the draws and gullies around the end of Sniper itself. The buildup was steady and an attack seemed imminent. U. N. planes, tanks and artillery spewed a rain of fire on the area.

Giant Fined $15 For Drunk, Disorderly

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The penalty for a giant in police court yesterday was the same as for normal-sized men who get drunk and disorderly.

Max Palmer, 25, who towers 8 feet, 4 inches, paid the $15 fine after pleading guilty to the charge.

Palmer, advance agent for a Hollywood band, was arrested earlier in the day by a group of normal-sized cops.

The officers had to sort of fold Palmer into the paddy wagon. They also had to bend him a couple of feet to get him into and out of the cell in which he was locked up for several hours.

Air Force Tells Of Spray-On Dressing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has a spray-on plastic dressing that quickly coats a wound with an infection-proof film the attending doctors can look through while healing goes on.

Announcing the development, Air Force headquarters said the film had promise for emergency use in case of atomic attack or other disaster, and also might displace gauze as dressing for many kinds of surgical wounds. It is still under test.

Rackets Czar In 2 Court Cases

Deportation Of Luchese Sought

NEW YORK (AP)—State crime probers watch their main underworld target, Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, confront two separate courts today in a tightening legal encirclement.

Luchese, reputed successor to imprisoned Frank Costello as czar of the rackets, faces the initial action of a possible U. S. move to deport him in Brooklyn Federal Court.

His own motion to avoid testifying before the New York State Crime Commission comes up in Manhattan State Supreme Court.

With the spotlight, temporarily at least, on the Luchese court cases, the commission planned to go ahead with its inquiry into political underworld relationships. The group was expected to look into judicial patronage today.

Carmine G. DeSapio, chief of Tammany Hall (the Manhattan Democratic organization), created a sensation at yesterday's hearing when he clashed with the commission and denounced phases of its inquiry.

DeSapio, 43, who admitted he won a draft deferment as an essential worker during World War II when he didn't have a regular job, said he did not want to be "smeared or lynched by implication."

The commission refused to allow DeSapio to read a statement in rebuttal of previous testimony and then ordered him off the witness stand.

U. S. Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery moved in Washington yesterday to strip citizenship from Luchese by directing the filing of denaturalization proceedings against the Sicilian-born ex-convict and wealthy garment manufacturer.

McGranery's action, similar to a move taken recently against Costello, is a prelude to possible deportation.

The Justice Department said the denaturalization proceedings would charge Luchese, listed in department records as Luchese, concealed arrests in connection with homicides when applying for citizenship. Luchese, who was convicted of grand larceny but not of homicide, was naturalized nine years ago.

In Brooklyn, U. S. Atty. Frank J. Parker said last night he would file a denaturalization petition against Luchese in Federal Court today.

Luchese, who will be 53 Dec. 1, has been subpoenaed to testify before the State Crime Commission in public. However, he obtained a temporary legal postponement last week. Arguments will be heard today in State Supreme Court on whether a permanent court order should be issued or the temporary order revoked.

British Lawyer Says Men Entitled To 1 Slip

LONDON (AP)—Every husband is entitled to philander once in his life, a spokesman (male) for the British Law Society said last night in advising wives it is better to forgive once than try to forget forever.

"I think for a woman to take up the stupid position of insisting upon absolute fidelity from her husband is wrong," London lawyer E. C. Harvey told the Royal Commission on Marriage and Divorce, which is hearing suggestions for changes in divorce laws.

"It might be suggested very strongly to a wife to overlook it where a husband had failed on one occasion with one particular woman and had freely confessed it—rather than rush into divorce. After all, she will be a long time divorced," he said.

Cars Stuck In Drought

ALICE, Tex. (AP)—Deer hunters reported many cars were getting stuck near here.

It wasn't muddy, and rain hadn't broken the drought. The cars, said the hunters, were stuck in cracks in the dry ground.

Law Prevents 4,000 Navy Officers' Advance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has informed Congress that about 4,000 officers will be denied earned promotions and some 2,000 others may be "busted" in rank unless Congress does something in a hurry.

The action will be required, the Navy contends, under an amendment to the Defense Appropriation Act which limits the number of officers in all services who may be paid in each grade.

The measure, passed earlier this year, was sponsored by Rep. Davis (R-Wis.), who said it was designed to keep the military from becoming "brass-heavy."

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Periodic Checkup May Prolong Life

One of the hardest things for people to realize is that the duties of the medical profession include trying to keep people as well as possible and not just trying to cure them when they get sick.

Q—Will you comment on this problem which a great many of my friends have as well as myself: I am the mother of three children, and both my mother and mother-in-law grumble because I take the children to a pediatrician for regular checkups. They say that I am wasting my husband's hard-earned money, and that the children do not need to be taken to the doctor except when they are sick. — B.Y.

A—A generation or more ago it was far less common to take children to the physician for regular checkups than it is now. It was also much more frequent at that time that children died.

The preventive inoculations and other measures which are now given to so many children are largely responsible for the far better chances of growing up which youngsters have today than 50 years ago. How can anyone think that it is a waste of hard-earned money to give children a better chance of growing up?

Q—Several weeks ago I stepped into a depression in the street and injured my foot in what I thought was a sprain. When two weeks passed and it was not better I went to a physician who took an X-ray and found a fracture of the fibula.

The doctor said the bone did not need to be set, but found too little calcium in the bone and put it in a cast. Since then it has felt better but a more recent X-ray showed that the decalcification has progressed further. Do you think this is likely to clear up or will it need some kind of treatment?—Mrs. A. C.

A—One cannot tell from the feeling following an injury such as that described whether the bone has been broken or not. Therefore, in injuries of that sort it is always wise to have an immediate X-ray and not wait.

As to the decalcification, even though the correspondent did not give her age, it seems probable that this will get better after she is able to use it. Of course, if the loss of calcium is too great there is the risk of further injury, but on that matter the doctor in charge will have to advise.

Q—Should people wait two hours to swim after eating a meal?—Reader.

A—It is usually best to wait about two hours after a sizeable meal before swimming, since it takes about this long for food to leave the stomach. Until this occurs, a good deal of blood is around the stomach and not enough in the limbs, so that there is more danger of developing cramps and drowning.

Q—How can medical science establish that white blood corpuscles are not dying or dead red corpuscles?—Miss G.F.O.

A—Because the history of both has been studied and it has been known where they are formed and where they go.

Hell Bombs

It's a thought for the age of high explosives that if the physicists and warriors reach their goal in the field of nuclear fission no one will know about it.

The earth will be destroyed.

An observer on some other planet might notice a new pinpoint of light in the firmament. It would mark the spot where earthlings monkeyed with schemes for destruction until they hit the universal jackpot.

But that would be a secret locked in infinity.

The Atomic Energy Commission tacitly admits that experiments of importance have been conducted on Eniwetok Atoll—and these experiments must have concerned hydrogeop bombs. These are the ultimate source of contrived destruction known to men.

Releasing the energy in hydrogen atoms is the process which causes the sun to heat the earth. A hydrogen bomb would be perhaps 1,000 times more powerful than an A-bomb of the same size. It might obliterate everything within 100 square miles. It might obliterate the earth itself if implacable enemies fought a war with too many of these nuclear weapons.

The United States had to develop an H-bomb because the Soviet Union had developed an A-bomb. The Soviet Union had to develop an A-bomb because the United States had developed one first.

Great Britain now must develop both an A-bomb and an H-bomb because the United States has done so. And the Soviet Union must develop an H-bomb to keep itself from being shoved out of the contest for leadership in atomic weapons.

If all the contestants win, mankind's chances of living to tell the story are no better than the chances that one of the competitors will start what can't be finished, short of disaster.

Another thought for the age of high explosives is that Hiroshima and Nagasaki started what now may never be finished.

Let The Pollsters Alone

It is mildly amusing that so many newspapers which continue to buy the pre-election output of political pollsters should be criticizing them for their second bad guess in a row. Surely there is no secret about the limitations of public-opinion polling in politics.

This newspaper realized a number of years ago that the pollsters were never meant to be taken any more seriously in politics than anyone else who predicts the outcome of elections. They were pretending to have discovered fool-proof systems for predicting the outcome, but that was understandable. Otherwise they would have been no more respectable than fortune tellers.

There was nothing new about this. From the very beginning, free elections in the United States had given rise to a cult of political prophecy. There never had been any lack of seers who claimed to know how everything was going to turn out. Sometimes they were right.

But right or wrong, the next election always found an attentive audience for their forecasting. Politics is the essence of speculation. Anyone who might be in a position to know something that not everybody knows is cajoled and pumped for information.

The pollsters will go strong for years to come. Maybe they were not right in 1948 and 1952. Maybe they will be wrong again in '56. But on the other hand, they might be right. They were right in '36, '40 and '44.

If there were no pollsters, people would rely on straw votes, fortune tellers and one another. The only wrong-doing of pollsters is to encourage people to take them seriously, a mistake less likely to occur after every wrong guess.

Strength In Government

Guessing why the Greeks voted the way they did last Sunday is tricky at this distance. But the leader of the winning party, Marshal Papagos, is a strong man.

He is the hero of the Greek war against Italy and the Greek war against the Communists. No one ever hinted that he might have a soft spot in his heart for the enemies of Greece.

The Russian Communists advised their sympathizers to vote for the other side, the Government coalition composed of Progressives and Liberals. Those names apparently are kicked around in Greece as recklessly as they are kicked around in the United States.

Papagos goes into power in Greece with a strong mandate and the blessing of the United States. One of the reasons for his strength, incidentally is the fact the votes were counted without benefit of proportional representation, that cunning device by which strong-willed leftists make certain that governments will stay weak.

But the main reason seems to be the determination of a majority of Greeks to make a clean break with the Communists who have plagued them for so many years. This is an era of strong governments. No other kind can survive the relentless pressure of conspirators working 24 hours a day to undermine every government on earth.

Dulles a 'Natural'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Embodies Qualifications of a Secretary of State

John Foster Dulles is a "natural" for secretary of state. Now that the political courtesies or amnesties in connection with the visit of Gov. Dewey to Gen. Eisenhower are over — it's always a compliment for a president-elect to indicate to a political leader that he might, if he wished, have the top place in the cabinet—the selection of Mr. Dulles becomes logical.

If Gov. Dewey were asked he probably would say that John Foster Dulles is the best man to appoint as secretary of state. Had Mr. Dewey been elected in 1948 he would have chosen Mr. Dulles for the post.

Probably no man in America is better qualified to perform the complex duties of secretary of state today than Mr. Dulles. Not only has he had experience in international affairs but he is the one man who can reconcile varying views on foreign policy in the Senate of the United States.

As a former member of the Senate he knows the ropes on Capitol Hill. He has worked with Sen. Taft and has a healthy respect for his ability.

The record by John Foster Dulles both inside and outside the Senate is remarkable not only for experience with foreign affairs generally but for inside knowledge of what the present administration has been doing and where it has made its errors in foreign policy.

Beginning in the days of the Paris Peace Conference at the close of World War I—when he was counsel to the American delegation and working closely with his friend, Bernard M. Baruch, who headed up reparations—Mr. Dulles has made international policy his life work.

He comes by it naturally since his grandfather — John W. Foster — was secretary of state in the administration of President Benjamin Harrison, Republican, in the 1880's.

As a member of the San Francisco conference which created the United Nations in 1945 Mr. Dulles worked daily with Sen. Vandenberg and Secretary of State Stettinius and has been an American delegate to all the United Nations Assembly meetings with one exception until this year.

He was at the right hand of Gov. Byrnes of South Carolina when, as Foreign Ministers in London in 1945 and he went again with Gen. Marshall, secretary of state to attend in 1947 a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow. Then, with Secretary of State Acheson, Mr. Dulles attended the Council of Foreign Ministers at Paris in 1949.

Thus Mr. Dulles has had the confidence of four successive secretaries of state under the Democratic administration and when the time came to negotiate the all-important treaty with Japan he was selected as personal representative of the President with the rank of ambassador.

Mr. Truman had been irritated by the speeches of Mr. Dulles critical of the Truman regime in his campaign for U. S. senator in New York in 1949, but the President had no other choice — Mr. Dulles was the only man who could do the delicate job of writing the peace treaty with Japan.

Early in his conferences with the President last year, Mr. Dulles made it clear that he reserved the right to consult with anybody and he said that meant Gen. MacArthur. Mr. Truman didn't like it but couldn't really object as Mr. Dulles wouldn't have taken the job otherwise.

It is a mark of Mr. Dulles' skill in steering away from domestic politics in handling international affairs that he consulted constantly with Gen. MacArthur on Japanese affairs all during the time he was representing the Truman administration in handling the Japanese treaty.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

In his life Christ is an example showing us how to live; in his death, he is a sacrifice satisfying for our sins; in his resurrection, a conqueror; in his ascension, a king; in his intercession, a high priest.—Martin Luther.

The term "New World" in connection with the Western Hemisphere is a historical term since the Americas are believed to be older geologically than Eurasia.

It was, however, in the unanimous report of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the greatest tribute to Mr. Dulles was written.

Both Democrats and Republicans said in their report recommending ratification that the job he did in negotiating successfully the Japanese Peace Treaty was the best example of bipartisan cooperation as well as cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of the government that had ever been done.

This was due in large part to his experience in the Senate where he had carried the burden alongside his close friend, Sen. Vandenberg, in getting the United Nations Treaty ratified by overwhelming vote.

It will be recalled that Mr. Dulles and Sen. Vandenberg also drafted the first military assistance bill for aid to Europe and got it through the Senate.

Mr. Dulles had been since 1950 a "consultant" in the Department of State but resigned early this year to make a series of speeches critical of American foreign policy.

He was invited by both Sen. Taft and Gen. Eisenhower to write the foreign policy plank of the Republican National Convention and it was so satisfactory to both wings of the party that it didn't create a controversy at all — a task of skillful presentation that the party leaders who had feared a split on that issue deeply appreciated.

While Mr. Dulles enjoys good personal relations with Prime Minister Churchill and Anthony Eden, the British press has at times been critical of him especially for his part in writing the Japanese Peace Treaty.

Certain British interests wanted the treaty to be punitive and to destroy Japan as a possible competitor in shipping in the Pacific.

Also, some of the British interests wanted Japan to be compelled to trade with Red China and play ball with the Communists while Mr. Dulles wanted the Japanese to stick to the Chinese Nationalists in accordance with American policy.

The so-called "liberation" policy for the satellites of Russia in Europe has been attributed to Mr. Dulles. This has aroused the ire of certain critics in Britain and on the continent but the hullabaloo is largely a failure abroad on the part of Europeans to understand during the campaign the distortions of American politics.

Mr. Dulles is not a believer in preventive war but leans rather to the side which hopes for psychological instead of military maneuvers in satellite countries to weaken Russia's hold on the smaller countries under her domination.

It will be refreshing, indeed, to have as secretary of state a man who is not overawed by the devious ways of British diplomacy and yet who knows how to work with Britain and the other Old-World countries on European matters while at the same time possessing a thorough knowledge of Korea, Japan and Far Eastern problems.

Not only did Mr. Dulles write the peace treaty with Japan but he had a major part in writing the Pacific Security Pact.

This agreement is regarded today as the cornerstone of a peace structure in the Pacific comparable to the North Atlantic Treaty for Europe which Mr. Dulles helped substantially to get ratified by the Senate.

Certainly for experience and knowledge Mr. Dulles is the best man in the United States today for secretary of state — and in all probability his designation for the post will be announced in the next few days.

Danger—Men Working

The Feller Suicide

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Abraham H. Feller, General Counsel to the United Nations, ended his own life for reasons or lack of reason of his own. Feller was not under subpoena; he was not under investigation, he was not even being interviewed, except at his own request, by any agency of the Congress or administration of the United States.

When Trygve Lie, retiring Secretary-General of the United Nations, blamed the Feller death on subversives employed by the United Nations, he gratuitously cast the shadow of doubt upon Abraham Feller and at the same time interfered in the internal affairs of the United States which are none of the business of this Norwegian, just as it would be none of the business of an American to tell Norway how to manage its affairs — and the Norwegians would say so.

THESE ARE the facts, concerning which I have first hand knowledge:

The Government of the United States has become increasingly concerned over the use of the United Nations by spies, Communist propagandists and particularly by American citizens who are Russian agents.

A number of Americans who were either let out of American agencies or who hopped out because they knew that they were under suspicion found jobs in the United Nations.

A federal grand jury in New York called before it American officials of the United Nations and discovered more than they had bargained for.

They were interrogated by Roy Cohn, special assistant to the attorney general, who had also prepared the cases concerning the atom spies, the Remington and Frederick Vanderbilt Field cases.

IT WAS, with reliability, reported that this grand jury would hand down a presentment concerning these cases on October 14, 1952. It has also been reported—and this I do not know of my own knowledge—that the grand jury presentment was not handed down on objection from the administration.

Meanwhile, an identical investigation was being made by the McCarran committee by Robert Morris, of its counsel. This committee hit pay dirt. Let me quote, from the record, a sample of the testimony that the committee heard.

Stanley Graze was, until dismissed by Trygve Lie after he had testified before the McCarran committee, a project officer of the United Nations Technical Assistance and Administration. This agency handled Point Four aid to countries through the United Nations.

PRIOR TO employment, he, an American citizen, was employed in the Treasury Department, War Production Board and the State Department.

Asked whether disloyalty charges had been leveled against him, this colloquy followed:

"Sen. Ferguson—Did you ever know whether or not a loyalty charge had been filed against you?"

"Mr. Graze—I decline to answer that question on the grounds of the privilege of the Fifth Amendment."

This is the essence of Graze's testimony:

"Mr. Morris—Are you presently engaged in espionage against the United States?"

"Mr. Graze—I decline to answer on the grounds of the Fifth Amendment.

"Mr. Morris—Have you ever in the past engaged in espionage against the United States?"

"Mr. Graze—I decline to answer on the same grounds.

"Mr. Morris—In the event of war between the United States and the Soviet Union, would you support the position of the United States?"

"Sen. Smith—If you cannot conceive a war, you think that all efforts we are making toward building up our defenses are of no consequence, and ought not to be done?"

"Mr. Graze—I don't believe that rearmament programs ever solved the problems of war."

"Sen. Smith—You do not think we ought to have rearmament?"

"Mr. Graze—I don't believe rearmament is the answer. I believe the United Nations is the answer. I believe that the answer is that the United Nations should solve the problem."

I CITE THIS one instance. I have already written several articles on this subject quoting testimony and will write more.

The position that an American citizen who is a Russian agent, a spy against his own country or a subversive Communist, once he has been employed by the United Nations, has found sanctuary from the American government, is untenable and will never be tolerated by the American people.

You First, Goliath

By TRUMAN TWILL

Our interest in that super-burrow to which denizens of the Pentagon in Washington would scurry in case of attack may be equalled, but we never shall permit it to be surpassed.

Every single dollar of revenue extracted from this patriot's earned power for the protection and preservation of military bureaucrats in the event of war will be scrutinized fore, aft and sideways.

We happen to be a member of a large and vindictive minority of patriots who believe if anybody is going to be blown sky-high in this country the boys in brass would go first.

We do not insist that they should volunteer to go first, though that would give them a special incentive to make sure they did not go, at all. We just insist that nothing about their order of importance entitles them to go last.

In fact, it is part of our credo that once they begin to brood about shacking up in that $5 million burrow which has been specially prepared for their security in case of attack, they might get sloppy in their planning to keep the rest of us from being suddenly and permanently disintegrated. Especially if they are planning to take their secretaries with them.

To make it perfectly plain what is eating us patriots who are unalterably against any special privilege in this connection we have only one criticism to make of the Pentagon itself.

It should have been built on stilts so it would stick up a couple of hundred feet in the air and then it should have been coated with iridescent paint so it could not be missed.

This kind of thinking, which is admittedly subversive, goes back to a whimsy that the way to discourage wars would be to make big shots fight wars. It would be like sending David against Goliath and may the best man win.

Not unless the issue got down to the last man would there be any possibility of plain, ordinary citizens being involved. All fighting would be done by presidents, secretaries of states, or maybe a secretary of interior or a little old ambassador in case all the head men were called out of the city or had previous engagements.

The only expense incurred in this kind of combat would be for personal equipment to outfit the champ, whoever he turned out to be. Nothing would be too good for the guy. He'd be entitled to the best ray guns and electronic paralyzers money could buy.

He would be beefed up with vitamins, kept in prime condition and encouraged to think proper thoughts under all circumstances, to keep his morale from sagging at crucial moments.

But under no circumstances would this character be encouraged to believe that when his great moment came to save civilization from the newest wave of vandalism that he could scurry into a hole in the ground, slam the door behind him and let us eggheads who don't know any more about fighting than a pig knows about Christmas handle the situation.

That would be silly, wouldn't it? If anything happens, the pros should be in the front row, huh?

BIBLE QUOTATION

On the other hand, it could be that the U.S.S.R. has been treating him so coldly he felt he would be happier in a world where "twenty degrees cooler inside" appeared only over movie theaters. . . .

General Motors' offers nearly $200,000 in cash prizes for the best essays on how to relieve traffic jams. . . . The rush to and from stationery stores and the post office is going to foul traffic up as never before.

A peek into the future of television, when it really attains grandeur of writing and performance, was given through "Omnibus," the Ford Foundation premiere. The beautiful wordage of Rex Harrison and Lili Palmer took all the tawdriness out of telecasting for an hour. . . .

But we still think nobody but Saroyan could even get that sketch of his beyond a dramatic agent. . . . We just heard of a man so screwy he does the tear and compare test with fifty-cent cigars. . . .

Jack Leonard's crack about asking the grocer for 50 cents worth of cheese: "Did you ever see a grocer try to wrap up TWO HOLES?" . . . Funniest TV sketch we have seen lately was Bert Lahr's baseball rookie, an old one, but still terrific. . . . The "unfunniest" was Uncle Miltie's golf sketch. . . .

A New York bank has lent $5 million to a Hollywood company for ten movies. . . . (Probably the directors went nuts over Westerns.) Jim Farley says he thinks the election result meant a winning vote for Ike but was not given as a vote against the Democrats. . . . What was that one again, please? . . . One woman went to the Met opening in silk slacks. . . . (Probably thought the opera was Giuseppe Minsky's "La Forza del Striperoo". . . .

Didja hear about the Horse Show performer who was so flashy he came on riding a horse with a white-egg saddle? . . .

Abel Green's "Spice of Variety" has plenty of laughs. . . .

We may now expect Americans to learn a little about the early history of their country. Adults on quiz programs may no longer flunk the question, "Who was John Alden?" The small fry will probably acquire a little more data on the Mayflower. The voyage to Plymouth Rock has been linked with Gene Tierney!

72 Enjoy Dinner Party Held By Members Of Book Club

Seventy-two members, husbands, and other guests attended the dinner meeting of the Salem Book Club Monday evening in the Presbyterian Church. "All husbands are alike but they have different faces so you can tell them apart" was the saying of the evening.

Mrs. Maurice Sadler, president, gave a toast to the husbands and they in turn answered roll call by telling their experiences with automobiles, old or new. "The Old and the New" is the Book Club theme for the year.

The humorous vein prevailed throughout the evening's program and especially enjoyed was Mrs. Guy E. Byers' review of the book, "Fill 'er Up" (Partridge). The history of motoring from the first horseless carriages to modern cars, was ably depicted by Mrs. Byers.

Costumed in white, Miss Jeanine Gollongram entertained with a pantomime ballet entitled, "Life Upon the Wicked Stage." Jim Jackson of Washingtonville strummed five ukelele numbers, including "Five Foot Two," "Croquet," "Sleep," "Anytime" and "Abide with Me."

Singing by the audience was led by Mrs. Ray Stiver. Arranging the program was Mrs. W. D. King, while Mrs. Harry Snyder was in charge of the musical program. They were assisted by their committees. Mrs. Matt Melitschka and members of the hospitality committee used the Thanksgiving motif in their decorating.

Colorful turkeys were attached to nut cups which marked each place at the linen covered tables. Brass holders held white tapers and the harvest theme was carried out in the cornucopias arranged with fruit and foliage.

Surgery and medicine of yesterday and today will be described at the meeting Dec. 1 when plans for Christmas will be made by Book Club members.

Miss Catherine Louise Spack Married To Lloyd Ray Sanor

Rev. John Bauman read the marriage vows when Miss Catherine Louise Spack was married Saturday at 7:30 o'clock to Lloyd Ray Sanor.

The sanctuary of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church was the scene of the single-ring ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spack of the Depot Rd., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Sanor of the Georgetown Rd.

Palms formed the background setting and white shasta pompons filled the altar vases. Tall tapers in candelabra and altar candles lighted the chancel setting where Mr. Spack gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. W. J. Seeman, church organist, played the nuptial prelude and heralded the bridal party with the traditional marches. She also accompanied Mrs. Oliver Davis, soloist, as she sang "At Dawning," and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Complementing the bride's ballerina gown of lace and nylon net was the white orchid she carried on her white Bible. Stephanotis blossoms were caught up in the streamers of her bouquet.

The lace bodice of her gown was enhanced with a dainty Peter Pan collar of lace, and lace was inserted in panels in the fully fashioned skirt. Matching lace edged her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion which was held in place by a beaded coronet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. George Spack, is the sister-in-law of the bride. She wore a gown of Nile green. Mrs. Carl Spack, in a lavender gown, and Miss Helen Spack, sister of the bride, in a shrimp-colored gown, were bridesmaids.

The three ballerina-length gowns were patterned alike of lace and nylon net. A mandarin neckline styled the lace accents which they wore over bodices of lace.

The skirts were made bouffant with tulle. Nylon net, in matching color, fashioned their hats. Each carried cascade bouquets of mums. The matron of honor carried bronze mums and the bridesmaids yellow mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Spack chose a dress of wine color with black accessories. Mrs. Sanor wore maroon with black. Each mother had a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Donald Sanor was his brother's best man. Ushers were John Schneider, cousin of the bride, of Cleveland, Walter Spack, Carl Spack and George Spack, brothers of the bride. The couple gave gifts to their attendants.

More than 300 guests thronged the Saxon Hall for the reception. The newlyweds greeted people

Skippin' Around

By SKIP GREENISEN

It was Bill McKinley, baseball umpire of the American League, addressing 240 United Commercial Travelers and their guests last night at the American Legion Hall.

"An umpire's life is really rugged and a great many prospective umpires don't make the grade," the colorful McKinley told his audience. "I started umpiring in 1939 after failing twice as a ball player in spring training and it was rough getting to the top as a Major League umpire."

A veteran of seven years as a "big time" arbitrator, McKinley was full of baseball stories, both of the years when he first broke into umpiring and in later years in the big leagues.

"When I started, umpires got $100 a month and had to pay their own expenses, besides putting up with the fans," he stated. "In those days fans not only jeered you from the stands but they did such things as let the air out of your tires, fill your gasoline tank with sand, and even beat your car with clubs."

McKinley, who just recently worked his first World Series, opened the meeting with a movie entitled "The Democracy of Baseball," a film which showed many of the great stars of long ago as well as those of today.

Following the film, he briefly told of his umpiring career, branched into the baseball season of '52, discussed his own personal reasons as to the failure of Cleveland to win the pennant this season, talked a bit on the Series, and generally kept his listeners attentive with a few stories on managers, players and his own gang—the umpires.

McKinley broke into the American League as an umpire in 1946 and has won the respect of all umpires in the fact that he was chosen to work the World Series. The Kinsman, Ohio, native said it was much nicer working in the big leagues than in the minors, better in many respects including the salary.

"The Indians," he stated, "lacked what we call 'down the middle' and the Yankees had it so that was a big difference in the final standings."

The umpire went on to explain that "down the middle" referred to a good catcher, a good pitching staff, a doubleplay combination and a good centerfielder. McKinley said the Tribe possessed a better-than-average pitching staff, a fine receiver, a fairly good centerfielder but lacked that all important doubleplay pair at second and shortstop.

The Yankees, on the other hand, had a fine catcher, a terrific batch of hurlers, a tough combination at the keystone sack and a good centerfielder in the 20-year-old Mickey Mantle.

"Cleveland expected good years from both (Luke) Easter and (Bob) Avila and also a better shortstop than in '51 from their shortstop but they didn't get a good year from their shortstop," the guest speaker explained. "They lacked that doubleplay combination, failed to win the big games and blew some of the easier games."

McKinley discussed managers of the American League in general, speaking of the Athletics' Jimmy Dykes in particular.

"When the Athletics are in the cellar, as they usually are, you never hear a word from Dykes, but when he is in the thick of contention, he is a dandy."

The umpire related a few stories on the stalling tactics of some managers, again speaking of Dykes in particular. "There is a $250 fine for stalling a game," he told his awed listeners, "and Dykes carries the thing to the dividing line but never crosses it."

With this he told two stories on the Philadelphia manager's slowing processes, one in which his attempt worked against Casey Stengel and the Yankees and once when it backfired against the Boston Red Sox.

In closing after a brief question-and-answer period, McKinley wished Cleveland fans a little more luck in 1953 but cautioned "don't expect any help from the umpires."

Those attending the UCT guest night party fully enjoyed the umpire's talk and many said he was the best they had heard in many a year. We thought McKinley's speech was a "dandy," as he described various happenings throughout his talk. We agree he was a wonderful speaker and hope that he might return to Salem again as an "open house" speaker so that those who didn't hear him might be able to hear his colorful stories of the nation's greatest attraction—baseball.

Prospective teams of the Class A Basketball League are reminded of the loop meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Building with League Manager Ward Zeller.

Representatives of teams wishing to enter competition this season are requested to attend the meeting. The hardwood action is slated to get underway Dec. 1.

Potters, Oliver Capture County Grid Honors

East Liverpool's Potters, only unbeaten Columbiana County eleven during the season completed last Friday, have won the mythical county championship, besides winning all honors for which statistics were kept.

The Potters finished with the best offensive total—393 points, an average of 39.3 per game. They also placed first in the defensive department, with only 85 markers being scored against them.

Liverpool boasted the top county scorer and extra-point specialist in Eddie Oliver. The bruising fullback tallied 135 points, including 16 touchdowns and 39 points after touchdowns.

Closest to Oliver in extra points were Fullback Joe Guido of the Leetonia Bears with 19 and End Bob Foster of Wellsville with 14. Ranked third in the state, the Potters who were tied by Sandusky 13-13, wound up with a 9-0-1 record for the season to lead all other county teams.

Second in county team scoring were the East Palestine Bulldogs, who chalked up 286 for a 28.6 average. Leetonia was third with 219 for a 24.3 mark.

Other teams' offensive totals were: Wellsville 182; Salem 173; Lisbon 171; and Columbiana 139.

RUNNERS-UP defensively were the Lisbon Blue Devils, who yielded 111 points. Leetonia was third with 115.

Defensive totals of the rest of the teams were East Palestine 141; Columbiana 142; Wellsville 217; and Salem 257. Only Leetonia and Columbiana played nine-game schedules, while the rest engaged in 10.

Leetonia and East Palestine, who had season records of 8-1 and 8-2 respectively, tied for the Tri-County championship with loop marks of 5-1.

Leetonia's loss came at the hands of East Palestine, 26-7, the first game of the season, while the Bulldogs lost, 20-13, to Newton Falls and 26-21, to Lisbon's Blue Devils.

The Blue Devils, who finished third in the Tri-County, had an overall record of seven wins, two losses and a tie. They were beaten, 14-7, by Leetonia and, 26-21, by the Salem Quakers, while Poland tied them, 6-6. Their loop mark was 4-1.

Although the Columbiana Clippers ended with a 4-5 season record they were second in the Inter-County League with four wins and a loss to MacDonald, who dropped them, 26-6, to capture the loop title with five victories and no defeats.

Salem and Wellsville had identical records of 4-6.

HALFBACK TONY CONKLE of East Palestine was runner-up in the individual scoring race. He tallied 110, one point ahead of Leetonia's Guido, who picked up 109 in nine tilts.

Rounding out the first eleven in individual scoring were: Fourth-Quarterback Clair Williams (East Liverpool) 92; fifth—Left Halfback Jerry Rose (Lisbon) 80; sixth—Fred Forney (Columbiana) 66; seventh—Back Hal Bush (East Palestine) 58;

Eighth—Back Spike Henry (East Palestine) 56; ninth—Back Dan Carney (Wellsville) 54; tenth—Halfback Nelson Mellinger (Salem) 50; and eleventh—End Jim Kline (East Palestine) 48.

thumping of Notre Dame, combined with Georgia Tech's close call against Alabama and Maryland's upset loss to Mississippi, left the undefeated Spartans off by themselves with nearly two-thirds of the first-place votes from 127 sports writers and broadcasters participating in this week's poll.

Michigan State was named first by 80 voters and piled up 1,168 points on the usual basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on down the line.

Oklahoma, bouncing back from its Notre Dame defeat with a 47-7 thrashing of Missouri, jumped from eighth place up to fifth, with 542 points.

Mississippi Southern Set For Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The Sun Bowl had one team — Mississippi Southern—for its Jan. 1 football game today and listed five more from which to pick Southern's foe.

Unbeaten Miami of Ohio, Cincinnati, Dayton, New Mexico and Utah will furnish the party of the second part in the New Year's Day clash.

Gene Donohue, chairman of the selection committee, said the other team may not be known for a week. There were indications it may be Nov. 27 before the selection is made. That's the day Miami and Cincinnati, which has lost only one game this season—to Kentucky—been tied by Tulsa, play for the Mid-America Conference championship.

Bell Reverses Decision, Slates Pro Game in Akron

AKRON, O. (AP)—Chicago's Bears and the orphaned Dallas Texans will play a National Football League game in the Akron Rubber Bowl Thanksgiving Day.

Bert Bell, league commissioner, made that decision Monday, reversing his earlier stand. When Bill Griffith, Akron sports promoter first made the offer, Bell said it would be too difficult to promote the game in such a short time.

But Bell approved the game providing it was held Nov. 27 instead of Nov. 30. The Brown, who play at Washington Ncv. 30, have television rights in Northeast Ohio.

Wallack Named Tribe's Public Relations Chief

CLEVELAND (AP)—Nate Wallack takes over today as public relations chief for the Cleveland Indians, succeeding Marsh Samuel who resigned last month.

Wallack was public relations man for two pro football clubs—the Cleveland Rams and Browns before joining the baseball team in 1949 as promotional director.

SALT LAKE CITY — Red Layne, 200, Lewiston, Utah, knocked out Al Spaulding, 212, Oakland, Calif., 5.

PROFESSOR — Phil Rizzuto demonstrates to a group of young students at the American Baseball Academy the proper way to grip a bat. The Yankee shortstop heads a faculty of big-league players. Daily classes are held at New York's 165th Infantry Armory.

Believes Rose Bowl Contract Will Expire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan State President John Hannah's prediction that the Big Ten will end its Rose Bowl contract in 1954 has brought quick and cautious reaction.

The Rose Bowl, as every kid in shoulder pads knows, is the oldest of college football's annual post-season classics, dating back to 1902.

The Pacific Coast Conference, which provides the host team each New Year's Day at Pasadena, Calif., has an agreement running until Jan. 1, 1954, with the Big Ten, which supplies the opponent. The arrangement began in 1947 and was renegotiated last year.

And Dr. Hannah, whose college becomes a Big Ten member next year—hence, eligible to vote on renewing the contract—forecasts it will be dropped. He said yesterday: "I think presidents of the Pacific Coast Conference think about as I do."

Hannah declined to speculate whether that meant there would be no Rose Bowl after Jan. 1, 1954, but he said: "If there is, I suspect that the Big Ten will not participate in it."

Elimination of all postseason competition, football bowls included, was one recommendation of a special committee of the American Council of Education. Hannah was chairman of the group, which conducted a nation-wide investigation into college sports programs.

Hannah's remarks yesterday were in a copyrighted interview with U. S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine.

Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, reached at Chicago, would say only: "The conference will act on a decision of renewing the Rose Bowl contract some time next year."

Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt was noncommittal. He told reporters at Corvallis, Ore., "The conference has found its relationship with the Rose Bowl over the last half century to be satisfactory and desirable."

Also at Corvallis, Oregon State President A. L. Strand said: "The California schools are irrevocably married to the Rose Bowl." He said Northern schools in the conference would go along with the California members.

However, President Harry K. Newburn of the University of Oregon said at Eugene he was ready to back Dr. Hannah.

Forty-One Players Turn Out For Initial Cage Workouts

Two Lettermen Among Prospects

Coach Cabas Begins Third Season In Salem

Forty-one prospective basketball players turned out for the initial practice of the Salem High School cagers last night in the high school gym in answer to Coach John Cabas' call.

Fundamentals were the theme of the inaugural practice session as Coach Cabas put his cagers through the two-hour workout.

The opening session was the first step toward a 17-game cage schedule which gets underway Dec. 12 with the foe being Columbiana in Clippertown.

Two lettermen are among the Salem cagers who seek berths on the team. Eddie Votaw, senior and captain of the squad, and Jack Gottschling are the two cagers who saw a lot of action last season.

Votaw played with the initial five last season and Gottschling saw action both as a reserve and with the varsity, breaking in the games more frequently in the latter part of the season.

Coach Cabas plans to divide his prospective basketballers into two separate groups, one of which will practice following classes and the other which will practice at a later time in the evening.

The two groups will consist of those who are farther progressed and those who need more coaching. The Salem coach said it would give him more of a chance to view his players for the next week before he begins to cut the squad down into groups which may be classified as varsity and reserve units.

Cabas greeted six seniors, 16 juniors, 17 sophomores and a pair of freshmen at the inaugural workout. More boys are expected to be out tonight at the team's second session, some of them football players who received minor injuries in the Lisbon grid game last week.

The two Frosh whom Cabas asked to practice with the upperclassmen are Jack Alexander and Dick Hunter, two highly regarded cagers who sparked the Junior High School team last year. Both of the boys are good shots and near the six-foot mark and Coach Cabas plans to give them every chance to play with the more progressed players.

The Salem coach started his third season with the Quakers when he opened yesterday's practice session. The two completed seasons show the Salem coach holds a 26-1

Massillon Captures Ohio's High School Football Championship For 5th Straight Year; Potters 3rd

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio's high school football championship went to Massillon's Tigers today, for the fifth straight year.

Forty-nine sports writers, 32 representing newspapers and 17 from radio stations, voted the powerful proteges of Coach Chuck Mather to the top spot in the final Associated Press poll of the campaign.

With the title goes permanent possession of the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy, the Tigers taking three straight legs on the award since it was offered the poll winner.

Massillon was the top choice of 21 of the scribes and garnered 407 points under the 10-9-8-etc. voting system. Springfield's Wildcats, who held the lead for three weeks in mid-season, finished a healthy second with seven first-place ballots and 368 points.

The two leaders swept aside 10 straight opponents, as did seventh place Cleveland Benedictine and ninth-place Van Wert—the latter moving into the top 10 for the first time after Friday's 26-0 win over Lima Central.

East Liverpool, tied by Sandusky in 10 starts, rounded out its best season in years in third place. Cincinnati Purcell and Dayton Chamblaine, who played a 27-27 tie Sunday, were fourth and fifth, while Washington Court House, with nine in a row, was sixth. Middletown was eighth, and Youngstown Ursuline tied with Van Wert for ninth. Zanesville slipped into the select circle with 57 points.

Massillon's 407 points were the greatest ever compiled in the pay-off roll, eclipsing the 366½ of 1951 when the Tigers nosed out Steubenville by 13.

Massillon and Springfield are the only teams in the 1952 big 10 who appeared among the elite in 1951 and 1950. Massillon won both times, but Springfield showed a steady gain by finishing fourth in 1950, third a year ago, and second this time.

Here's how they finished the last four years:

1951 — Massillon, Steubenville, Springfield, Hamilton, Zanesville, Barberton, Warren, Cleveland Collinwood, Fremont Ross, Lima Central.

1950 — Massillon, Hamilton, Barberton, Springfield, Upper Arlington, Portsmouth, New Philadelphia, Zanesville and Steubenville.

1949 — Massillon, Mansfield, Canton McKinley, Cincinnati Purcell, Fremont Ross, Middletown, Toledo Libbey, Circleville, Springfield and Wooster.

1948 — Massillon, Canton McKinley, Hamilton, Middletown, Newark, Martins Ferry, Alliance, Lakewood, Mansfield and Akron St. Vincent.

Mather, in his five years at total to 124 against some of the state's best foes. . . Lester Franks, sophomore halfback, boosted his season yardage to 1,243 as Free-mont Ross swept the Buckeye Conference with a 24-12 win over Marion.

Toledo Clay has won 24, lost three and tied one since Coach Ted Federici took over, the 1952 entry winning nine straight by scoring 230 points and holding the enemy to 25. Quarterback Bill Romstadt completed 89 of 146 passes for 13 touchdowns, and fullback Art Bedee scored 15 times.

Fullback Lee Nussbaum scored two touchdowns and gained 181 yards for Massillon in the 41-8 win over Canton McKinley, and didn't know it. He suffered a slight concussion early in the game, but no one knew about it until after the game. It was Mather's 100th coaching victory.

Final Standings

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Here's how 32 newspaper and 17 radio sports editors rated Ohio's high school football teams today as they awarded the 1952 state championship to Massillon—the fifth straight year Coach Chuck Mather's Tigers have finished at the top.

First place votes are in parentheses, and also shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, and the won-lost-tied records of the leaders.

Named with Holman were Prof. Frank S. Lloyd, chairman of the Faculty Athletic Committee, and assistant Coach Harry Sand.

Holman, who has been on sabbatical leave with pay, was criticized by the committee in a report to the board for his testimony that he remained aloof from details of the basketball program outside of actual coaching.

Courtroom Becomes Hospital For Trial

BRISTOL, England (AP)—A courtroom here became an operating theater—complete with operating table, anesthetist, instruments, surgeon, attending physician, nurses and patient. Surgeon Douglas Fairman went through the motions of taking out the patient's tonsils.

He didn't really operate, however. It was all part of a court hearing yesterday in a suit filed by Mrs. Dorothy Moon, Bristol widow, against the Bristol General Hospital. She charged Fairman with negligence and rough handling during a tonsil operation on her husband in 1949. He died later.

The mock operation was staged to show how a patient's head is handled during a tonsillectomy. The court said it would rule later on the suit.

Salem Grocer Visits Greek
Birthplace After 40 Years

By JOE KUPKA

A Salem grocer has returned from a five-month trip to the island of his birth in the Aegean Sea—a visit that had been postponed many times in the last 40 years since he arrived June 4, 1912 in the United States.

Making the journey to the Old World was Gust N. Zantal, owner of the National Grocery Store, 673 N. Lincoln Ave. in the grocery and confectionery business about 33 years—23 of them in Salem—Mr. Zantal was born May 21, 1897 on the island of Tenedos (also known as Bozcaada).

He tried consistently to visit the island, but the Turkish government, which owns it, had not issued visas to tourists until recently. But Mr. Zantal realized his dream when he left New York June 7 on the Greek ship, the Nea Hellas, bound for his native land.

THIRTEEN DAYS after leaving the States, Mr. Zantal arrived in Piraeus, Greece, a seaport city southwest of its capital, Athens.

From there the grocer was able to board a plane and fly to Tenedos and other islands surrounding Greece.

Tenedos, situated in the north-eastern part of the Aegean Sea off the western coast of Turkey, is about 12 miles south of the Dardanelles.

While on Tenedos, he relived the memories of his boyhood. The house in which he resided was still intact, although a bit shabby. He also was reunited with a brother and a sister and met several nieces and nephews. One of his brothers died April 9, two months before his trip.

Most of the people of Tenedos have a summer and a winter home. Their main occupations are farming and fishing. Many vineyards decorate the countryside, he said.

RESIDENTS THERE have kept up with the times. Modern conveniences can be seen in their homes and towns and the blessings of electricity, movies, radio, telephone and other progresses of mankind have not eluded them, the grocer said.

Mr. Zantal also toured Greece proper, traveling mostly by train throughout the land whose nationality he bears.

During his itinerary, he noticed particularly that the determined Greeks have lifted their nation out of the chaos of World War II. He said new homes, buildings, hospitals and hotels dot the country, especially in Athens, and plentiful quantities of foodstuffs of all varieties were displayed in the stores.

The Greeks, who probably suffered more from the civil war following World War II than from the Nazi occupation and bombings, are rapidly recovering, Mr. Zantal said. Living conditions are on par with those here, he said, adding that he saw modern trains and American-made cars in use there.

THE PEOPLE of Greece have a distinct affection for America, being appreciative of everything done for them. American films and English-language newspapers are offered to the public and English is taught in the schools, the Salem man said.

The Greek army constantly holds maneuvers. Well-equipped and well trained, it is considered about the strongest in the Balkans, he stated. He said a large number of people would come to America if given the opportunity.

Mr. Zantal was decidedly impressed with the beauty of Athens, once the Ancient World's capital of learning. The Greeks' fine treatment of tourists also drew his attention.

His return trip to the States took 17 days because of a storm.

Gust and Pauline Zantal have a son, Nick, 20, who is a senior at Miami University, Oxford, O.

After his arrival in America in 1912, Mr. Zantal settled in Millersburg, Ky., and later resided in Wheeling, W. Va., Alliance and Pittsburgh before coming to Salem.

Cleveland Janitor Held
As Subversive Alien

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Electric Illuminating officials today said they were "completely shocked" by the arrest of one of their employees on charges of being a subversive alien.

Agents of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service Monday arrested Paul Martinove, 53-year-old janitor.

A company spokesman said he had a good record and that it was "extremely unlikely" he could have obtained security information at the building.

The federal agency gave few details on the case. Floyd E. Ault, head of the bureau's Cleveland office, said Martinove was a Communist before he entered the United States for the second time in 1947.

Deaf Hear Over Phone
With Clarity, Ease

CHICAGO, Ill. (Special)—A sensational new electrical development enabling the deaf to hear over the telephone with miraculous ease and clarity has been developed by Stanley Webster, noted Chicago acoustical engineer.

In a remarkable demonstration he showed how, by the mere flick of the finger, the "Magic Phone Clarifier" eliminates all disturbing outside noises and that only the voice of the person on the telephone is heard.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this amazing new electronic development, full details are described in a fascinating illustrated booklet which will be sent to anyone who requests it.

If interested for yourself or a friend, simply send your request to Mr. Stanley Webster, Electronic Research Director, Dept. Greg-You, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill. A postcard will do. (Adv.)

Dissillusioned
Britons Plan
Return To U.S.

BELLEVUE, O. (AP)—Dissillusioned by life in their English hometown, the Joseph Curran family is returning to the United States, probably to spend the rest of their lives.

The Currans left Carlisle, Cumberland, Eng. with their two sons four years ago. After a brief stay in Canada, they came to Bellevue and made their home.

Although they prospered, homesickness overtook Mrs. Curran and so last September they returned to the small English town.

Conditions in Carlisle contrasted very unfavorably with those in Bellevue, however, and the family began making immediate plans to head back to the United States.

Noel, 17, one of the sons, flew back to Bellevue recently so he would not miss too much of the school year and the rest of the family expects to sail next month.

The father had been a skilled railroad machinist in Bellevue, but he was unable to find similar work in England. Wages in all work was low, rents high, houses scarce and food and clothing expensive.

— the deal of the year!

And we're ready to back up that headline with appetizing facts and generous figures. For example, "the car of the year" is more than a glib phrase, it's a title that Mercury has earned by doing—by making news.

Mercury is the one car in its class that came up with something really new for 1952—styling so new it left other cars far behind. And, if that weren't enough, Mercury (with optional overdrive) again proved that pound for pound it could beat all comers for economy in the Mobilgas Economy Run.

But, we know, you're equally interested in "how much" for your present car. We can give you some idea if you just pick up the phone and call us. But we can do even better if you give us a chance to appraise it firsthand—so we can allow for extras and care you've given it.

Abolish Martinis

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In the present reach for a better world now seems the opportune time for government to do something about the Martini.

The problem of the Martini and the people who inhale Martinis is one above the boundaries of science, politics, race, age or sex. The flat dictum of many bartenders is:

"They'll never have peace anywhere in the world so long as they allow Martinis. Congress ought to abolish them by law if possible—or by force if necessary."

One oldtime bartender said: "You know when you serve a man or a woman an ordinary drink, you have some idea what it will do to them—and they have some idea, too."

"But when I mix a Martini for a customer for the first time I always have a sense of curiosity. No matter how well I thought I knew him before, I see a new side of his character once he switches to Martinis."

The only thing I'm sure of is that he will behave differently than before. But what will he do? Complain against the dear old mother he always praised before on a bourbon ration? Fight the memory of his father or the nearest man within reach? Or will he just start flapping his arms and try to fly through the bar mirror?

"I tell you the uncertainty gets a man down, particularly after a lifetime in this business."

The Martini quaffer is a lonely but proud figure. The majority of mankind, taking the human race around the globe, is and usually always has been heavily addicted to the imbibing of alcoholic beverages in any form. They figure this has caused more trouble to more people than it has been a benefit to. The arguments pro and con go on endlessly. But even among the gentry who share a liking for the flowing cup that cheers them there is strong prejudice against those who seek mellowness in mixtures of gin and vermouth. The Martini man realizes this, and one toasts another by saying:

"Well, there aren't many of us left, are there?"

There is a growing conviction, however, among sound bourbon, Rye, scotch or wine fanciers that the number of Martini admirers is on the increase rather than the wane.

Just why no one knows. The Republicans blame it on 20 years of Democratic rule. The Democrats say it is a side manifestation of worldwide uneasiness. And ask, "Well, let's see the Republicans solve it." The average hostess just knows the problem is there—and wishes it weren't.

The fact all bartenders agree on is that as Martini drinkers get wetter they ask more and more for a drier mixture. The old three to one formula—three parts gin to one of vermouth—is an insult today to a real Martini fancier. He tends now to prefer a glass of pale gin over which a closed bottle of vermouth has been waved once. This concoction has a tendency to curdle his normal milk of kindness and turn him into a cop fighter.

One veteran restaurateur, worried over this problem, says lawmakers will never solve it and there is only one real solution.

"That," he said, "is for a bourbon man to side up to a Martini man every time he says, 'give me one—and make it dry,' and then himself ask for a Martini and say, 'make mine wet, please.'"

The regular Martini man will succumb of sheer horror on the spot. And I guess that's the only way we'll ever get rid of them.

Putnam Studies Lewis, Moses Pleas For Full Coal Wage Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam has promised a quick ruling on the disputed pay raise for coal miners. And there was a hint the miners might not strike if the ruling went against them.

The industry negotiated a $1.90 a day pay raise with union leader John L. Lewis but the Wage Stabilization Board approved only part of it.

The WSB decided only $1.50 per day was payable and barred the remaining 40 cents as inflationary. Lewis and the industry have asked Putnam to reverse the WSB and approve the full amount.

Putnam heard arguments from both Lewis and Harry M. Moses, industry spokesman, at a special hearing yesterday.

They argued coal miners should get special consideration because of their hard underground work and conditions peculiar to the industry. They contended the pay raise was approvable under the WSB's rule.

After the hearing, Putnam gave no indication of how he will rule, but said he would do so as soon as possible.

Coal miners had been expected to strike if Putnam ruled against the full pay raise, but Lewis indicated yesterday this might not happen.

Lewis said "we'll wait" until the WSB goes out of business and wage controls are abandoned, if necessary, but he said some day the miners will get the full $1.90.

sign the general will take any such action.

Nor was there any indication that Eisenhower would take a suggestion voiced by Democratic Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia that he designate now the men he expects to appoint to top-flight cabinet posts.

"It would be very helpful if Gen. Eisenhower would name the men he expects to appoint to his cabinet so that they could begin sitting in with present cabinet members," Russell told a reporter. "That way the transition could be made to the new administration without loss of time."

Sen. Herman Welker said in an interview he hopes Eisenhower appoints a couple of Southern Democrats to the cabinet.

"The Republican party has its best opportunity to make headway in the South and we should convince the Southerners that we intend to make them active participants in the government and lean on them for help and leadership," the Idaho Republican said.

He suggested the appointment of Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia as secretary of the Treasury and Russell as secretary of defense. Russell supported Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, but Byrd did not.

Sen. Taft told reporters he had made some suggestions to Eisenhower about cabinet appointments but declined to mention any names.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who has been mentioned as a possible appointee to both the State and Defense Departments, disclosed he has been telephoning information to Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., where the general ended a two-week vacation today for the flight to Washington.

Lodge said he had talked with Secretary of Defense Lovett and with Acting Secretary of State David K. Bruce.

Lovett told reporters most of his conversation with Lodge concerned arrangements for Eisenhower's projected personal trip to survey conditions in Korea. Lovett said Detroit banker Joseph Dodge, designated by Eisenhower to sit in as an observer with drafters of the new budget, had met with other Defense Department officials.

Lodge is Eisenhower's liaison with most government agencies, while Dodge's tasks lie solely with the Budget Bureau.
